Track	1) Are pony riders that work the races allotted permanent stall space on the grounds for their ponies (as opposed to use before and after the races)?		2) Is there a minimum number of stalls a trainer must have in order to have a pony?		3) If you answered yes to #2, what is the minimum number?	4) If you answered yes to #2, are the number of ponies a trainer may have capped?		5) Do you require trainers to include ponies on their stall applications?		6) Are ponies kept in a separate barn or regular barns?		Other (please specify)
	Yes	No	Yes	No		Yes	No	Yes	No	Sep.	Reg.
Arlington Park	X		X		10	X		X				Pony people have a separate barn. Trainers may have ONE pony and he is stabled in the trainer's barn.
Canterbury Park	X			X		X		X			X
Charlestown		X	X		8		X	X			X
Churchill Downs	X		X		10	X		X				The ponies belonging to some of the bigger firms are kept in the barns of those owners. The other ponies are kept in separate barns.
Del Mar	X			X				X			X	Both
Ellis Park	X		X		10	X		X			X	We limit the number of stalls to 2 for pony people.
Fonner Park	X			X			X	X			X
Lone Star Park	X		X		case by case	X		X				We have pony barns but large outfits will keep a pony in their barn
Monmouth Park	X			X				X		X	X
Parx Racing	X		X		10	X		X				Pony people are in the pony barn exclusively and stable ponies are in stall allotments if room exists, else they are in the pony barn as well
Portland Meadows	X		X		10	X		X				some are stabled in separate barns and some are stabled in regular barns
Prairie Meadows ¹	X			X					X			We have a Pony Barn that holds 23 ponies and some commercial ponies and all stable ponies are with the general horse population
Tampa Bay Downs	X		X		25	X		X			X
Woodbine	X			X		X		X		X	X	We have a 'pony barn' that offers limited accomodations for pony contractors. Most ponying here is done by these providers on a per-use fee basis. Some trainers also have a pony within their stall allotment. This is up to the trainer. But if the trainer is not giving us adequate production with his stalls then his pony needs to go as it will certainly affect his future stall allotment.
